

Selling with Confidence

Workshop Objectives

At the end of this session you will be able to:

- Identify customer needs through questioning techniques
- Identify and provide products or services which meet those needs
- Explain the difference between features and benefits and generate interest in your product or services
- Overcome objections, handle customer queries, feedback and reactions
- Identify buying signals that will assist you in closing the sale