Notes

- 1 The attention of candidates and electors is drawn to the rules for filling up nomination papers and other provisions relating to nomination contained in the parliamentary elections rules in Schedule 1 to the Representation of the People Act 1983.
- 2 Where a candidate is commonly known by some title he may be described by his title as if it were his surname.
 - (a) Where a candidate commonly uses a name which is different from any other name he has, the commonly used name may also appear on the nomination paper, but if it does so, the commonly used name (instead of any other name) will appear on the ballot paper.
 - (b) But the ballot paper will show the other name if the Returning Officer thinks -
 - that the use of the commonly used name may be likely to mislead or confuse electors, or
 - that the commonly used name is obscene or offensive.
- 3 An elector may not subscribe more than one nomination paper for the same election.
- 4 A person whose name is entered in the register may not subscribe a nomination paper if the entry gives as the date on which he will become of voting age a date later than the day fixed for the poll.
- 5 A candidate supported by a certificate of authorisation signed by the Nominating Officer of a political party (or someone on their behalf) may use the party name or a description allowed by that certificate and registered with the Electoral Commission. A candidate may stand on behalf of two or more different parties and use a registered joint description if supported by certificate(s) of authorisation from each of the parties. Any candidate may alternatively use the description of 'Independent' (and/or 'Annibynnol' in Wales), or leave the description box blank.

NOMINATION PROCESS

DELIVERY OF NOMINATION PAPERS

Nomination papers must be delivered to the location specified and at the times and dates specified on the notice of election.

Nomination papers must be delivered between the hours of 10.00am and 4.00pm. The first day that nomination papers may be delivered is the day after the Publication of the Notice of Election; this date will be specified in the Notice of Election.

When conducting an informal check it should be made clear that the Nomination Papers are being looked at informally. Those who may not formally deliver Nomination Papers may still bring them in and be present at the informal check but cannot formally deliver them or view any other Nomination.

The Returning Officer should make it clear that they cannot be held responsible if they fail to identify an error or omission during the informal check – the correct completion of the Nomination Papers remains the responsibility of the Candidates and Agents.

Nomination papers may only be delivered by the following people:

- the Candidate
- the Candidate's Election Agent (the Notice Of Appointment of Agent may be delivered at the same time as the Nomination Paper)
- the proposer or seconder as shown on the Nomination Paper

Nomination papers must be delivered in person, by one of the people listed above. If they are delivered by anyone else, or it cannot be determined who has delivered the Nomination Papers, they will not be accepted.

ATTENDANCE AT NOMINATION PROCEEDINGS

The eligible people are:

- a Candidate
- an Election Agent
- a person named by a Candidate who is acting as their own Agent to attend instead of an Election Agent
- a proposer or seconder

Additionally, there are further people who are entitled to attend the nomination of candidates but they may not object to any of the nominations.

These people are:

- one person appointed by each of the candidates to attend and not already entitled to attend
- Commission representatives

OBJECTIONS TO NOMINATION PAPERS

The time during which objections can be made to a particular nomination varies depending on when the nomination paper in question is delivered. For any nomination delivered before the last day for nominations, any objection has to be made between 10.00am and 12 noon on the last day for the delivery of nominations. For any nomination delivered on the last day for nominations, any objection has to be made by 5.00pm on that day, except for any objection to the sufficiency or nature of the particulars of the candidate (e.g. the name, description, home address or date of birth) which must be made immediately after the paper is delivered.

If an objection is made, the Returning Officer must resolve this objection. The determination of an objection must be based only on the available grounds that a Nomination Paper may be held invalid. The Returning Officer should not undertake any investigation or hear any representations in support of or challenging any fact or statement given on the Nomination Paper.

The Returning Officer should limit the objection process to re-examining the Nomination Papers, home address forms, consents to nomination and other forms required for nomination. Only if the Returning Officer had made an error in determining the Nomination Papers can the objection be successful. Where the objection is upheld, the nomination will be held to be invalid.

CANDIDATE'S PARTICULARS - NAMES

Any decision to refuse the use of the commonly used name does not invalidate the nomination; the effect is that the candidate's full name will appear on the Statement of Persons Nominated, the Notice of Poll and the Ballot Paper. This fact should be made clear to Candidates and Agents, particularly if a commonly used name is actually rejected.

The nomination form contains no space for prefixes or suffixes. Therefore, while inclusion of any prefix or suffix as part of the actual name would not invalidate the nomination paper, they should not be transferred to the statement of persons nominated. The Returning Officer should act as if the prefixes or suffixes were not on the nomination paper and not add them to the statement of persons nominated when that is being produced. However, this does not apply if a potential candidate has included a prefix, such as Dr or Sir, in the commonly used forename(s) box.

In this case, the prefix should be carried forward to the statement of persons nominated and the ballot paper. A commonly used name that includes a prefix may only be rejected if the Returning Officer thinks that it is likely to mislead or confuse electors, or is obscene or offensive.

CANDIDATE'S DESCRIPTION

If a candidate wishes to have a description other than 'Independent' or 'Annibynol' in Wales, that description must be authorised by a registered political party. When submitting their Nomination Paper, they must also submit a Certificate of Authorisation from that party's Nominating Officer (or a person appointed by them to act on their behalf). The certificate must have been delivered before the deadline for the delivery of nomination papers.

SUBSCRIBERS

Each Candidate standing in an election must be proposed and seconded by electors from the constituency; in addition, eight other electors from the constituency must assent to the nomination.

The people who can subscribe a nomination paper are those who are UK Parliamentary electors, who are on the register on the last day for publication of the notice of election and who will be 18 years of age or over (i.e. of voting age) on polling day. That register is definitive for the nomination process. If an elector is later removed from the register before the election (or indeed even before the nomination is delivered) or dies before the election, their signature remains valid and the nomination is not affected.

A person must not subscribe more than one nomination paper. If they do, their signature will only be valid on the first paper to be delivered to the Returning Officer even if this was not the first paper that they signed. The Returning Officer should have a robust system of ensuring that no elector subscribes to more nomination papers than they are entitled to. Such methods include the marking of a copy of the register or using the electoral management software system.

Only the first ten subscribers on any nomination paper can be considered. If more than ten subscribers are included, the eleventh and any subsequent names must not be considered at all. If one of the first ten subscribers is invalid, irrespective of whether more than ten subscribers have been added to the nomination paper, it must be held invalid.

Occasionally a mistake is made with the subscribers on a nomination paper, and one or more of the names are crossed out on the form. If the signature and the elector number for a subscriber are clearly crossed out, then they should be ignored by the Returning Officer and treated as if they did not appear at all. Such crossings out should not be done by the Returning Officer. Any crossings out should be clear and, ideally, initialled. A new name, signature and elector number must be added to replace the entry that has been crossed out. If the person was a proposer or seconder, then the new proposer or seconder must be indicated.

HOME ADDRESS FORM

The Nomination Paper provided by the Returning Officer should not contain a space for the address of the Candidate. The Candidate's full home address must instead be provided on a separate Home Address Form.

A nomination paper is not invalid if it additionally contains the home address of the Candidate (i.e. when the Candidate does not use a current form or creates a form themselves). However, a Home Address Form must also be delivered as well as the Nomination Paper for the nomination to be valid.

A Candidate may, if they choose, sign a statement on the Home Address Form stating that they require their home address not to be published. This statement must be signed by the Candidate.

If the Candidate chooses not to have their home address appear on the Statement of Persons Nominated and the ballot paper, the constituency in which the Candidate's home address is situated or, if they live outside the UK, the country in which they live must be printed instead.

If a Candidate does sign a statement requiring their home address not to be published, they must also state the name of the UK Parliamentary constituency in which they live or, if they live outside the UK, the country in which their home address is, so that this can be published instead.

The Home Address Form is available for inspection along with the other Nomination Papers to the people mentioned in the section 'Attendance at the delivery of nomination papers'. The Returning Officer should make it clear to persons inspecting a Home Address Form that asks for the Candidate's home address not to be published that the information on the Home Address Form should only be used by the person inspecting to:

- object to the Nomination Paper
- launch an Election Petition
- make a complaint to the police that a person has made a false statement and that any other use may be in breach of the Data Protection Act 1998 and make a person using the information for any other purpose liable to criminal prosecution.

REQUEST FOR A PARTY EMBLEM

The Candidate may provide a high-resolution copy of the emblem for use in the printing of ballot papers, or may request that the Returning Officer download the emblem from the Commission's website. The Returning Officer should ensure that whatever copy is used is in the same form as the registered emblem.

DEPOSIT

In order to be validly nominated a candidate must also deposit £500 with the Returning Officer. This sum must be paid by the Close of Nominations.

Modern banking systems allow for the transmission of funds very quickly. The Returning Officer should allow such bank transfers into their account. These payments can, however, only be made with the consent of the Returning Officer but pre-authorisation should be given if the candidate meets certain basic requirements decided by the Returning Officer.

CORRECTION OF MINOR ERRORS

For example, where an elector number has been entered incorrectly, the Returning Officer may amend it if they are satisfied that an error has been made. However, where the elector number has been omitted altogether, this does not amount to an error, and the Nomination Paper should be rejected on the basis that the number has simply not been supplied and the particulars are not as required by law. Dealing with the 'obvious' errors of spelling may be more difficult, as what is obvious to one person may not be so to another. Care should be taken in exercising this power.
