Backdated Benefits

When you apply for Housing or Council Tax Reduction, your benefit will normally be worked out from the Monday after we receive your claim.

We may be able to pay you benefit from an earlier date, if there was a good cause for the delay in making your claim. Benefit can be backdated for up to:-

- 3 months if you are Pension Credit age
- 1 month if you are working age

Counting back from the date we receive your written request for backdated benefit.

What is a good cause?

You should give as much information as you can for the whole of the time you want your benefit backdated. If you have more than one reason for not claiming sooner, you must tell us about all those reasons.

Each application will be looked at on its own merits.

These are some reasons which on their own are not normally considered as good cause for backdating an application:

- having arrears of Council Tax or rent and you need the benefit to pay them
- mislaying or forgetting to post the application form
- not claiming because you thought you would not qualify.

Each claim will be looked at separately and remember, the more information you can give us the better.

What will happen next?

We will make a decision based on the facts you supply. We will write to you to tell you if your claim for benefit will be backdated.

What do I do if I do not agree with your decision?

If you disagree with our decision you can write and ask us to look at your claim again. You must contact us within one month of the date on the decision letter. You can also phone, write or visit us and ask us to explain the decision. You can also ask for a written statement of reasons which will show more information about the decision.

If you are still not satisfied, you can appeal. Please contact us and we will give you more information.
